The LDS church has a long history of prophecy in the church going back to Joseph Smith and continuing in an unbroken line of prophets ending in today's current prophet. According to the bible "God does nothing without revealing his word to the prophets" Amos 3:7. However, the bible also teaches that "God cannot lie" and "no prophecy is of private interpretation" II Peter 1:20. How can it be that both Joseph Smith and Brigham Young taught and practiced polygamy and blood atonement and the church then later condemns it? If a prophet is God's mouthpiece, who was wrong....God or the prophet? Jeremiah 28:9 reveals that God's prophet must be 100% accurate. How do you explain the inaccuracy of Joseph Smith's and Brigham Young's original teachings.
